Question 1:

Write a pair of UDP client/server programs showing the two-way communication between client and server. Each message should display the IP address and port number of the sender.